Dear Ms. Orr:

Sanitation facilities are of vital concern to Indian Health Service (IHS). Adequate facilities prevent water related and effluent related diseases that could lead to gastroenteric illnesses. Therefore, it is imperative that IHS be advised of any plans for large commercial ventures that could negatively impact your present water and sewer systems.

Although IHS cannot provide funding for commercial building sanitation facilities, our Field Engineer is available for consultation and to recommend any measures that would protect your interests and health of the members of your Tribe.

Please advise us of any current or future development plans you may have. We wish you the best of health.

Sincerely,

Patrick W. Craney
