
From: Amy Dutschke
To: Alison Grigonis
Sent: 1/17/2017 11:16:51 AM
Subject: RE: Ethics re: Wilton

I spoke to Michael Adams, Ethic Officer for the BIA who works in Billings, MT. Michael was communicating with the Department Ethics Office, not sure of who but I can call Michael and find out if you need. When this came up I hadn't even thought of this as a problem, there are people at Wilton who are distant relations. The people at Wilton are my Grandfathers brothers children's children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Some of these people are enrolled in Ione and others in Wilton. So basically they are my 3rd and 4th cousins, twice removed. I didn't grow up with them so I even had to talk to my sister to figure out how we were related. My grandfather's niece (Geraldine Burris) married a Hatch who are from Wilton, so the Hatch family can be enrolled in Ione through my Grandfather's side of the family (Burris) and they can be enrolled at Wilton through the Hatch side of the family. Let me know if you need other names, etc., and I can get that together for you. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I am careful about this kind of stuff and just didn't even think it was a problem.

Amy

From: Grigonis, Alison [mailto:alison.grigonis@bia.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, January 17, 2017 6:32 AM
To: Amy Dutschke; Jennifer Turner
Subject: Ethics re: Wilton

Hi Amy, I know you mentioned that you both spoke with and were cleared by ethics to work on Wilton. Can you share some more background, like the date and person you spoke with. Also would be good to hear some of their analysis. Because this was in the comments we received on Wilton we have to respond. Jennifer Turner from SOL is drafting the response to comments so I'm copying her here.

Thanks!

--

Alison Grigonis
Senior Advisor to the Assistant Secretary - Indian Affairs
Department of the Interior
1849 C Street, NW, Rm. 6511
Washington, DC 20240
202-208-3254
alison.grigonis@bia.gov